

"The point here is that the future of distance education is not about moving from teacher as dispenser of information to technology as dispenser of information. It's about a collaboration between teachers and technology that overcomes the restrictions of time and space, enabling students to learn more, in less time, and with far less overhead"

Kinnaman, D.E. (1995). The future of distance education. Education Technology & Learning 5 (4), 58.
